Once an agreement has been reached on the committed daily production volume, the agreed pricing will remain fixed for a period of six months.

After six months, the actual incoming order volumes will be reviewed, and a new price calculation will be prepared based on the average order volume for the pricing period starting in the seventh month.

No retroactive price adjustments, credits, or additional charges will be made if the actual order volume falls below or exceeds the agreed volume during the six-month period.

All prices quoted are net prices and are exclusive of the applicable statutory Value Added Tax (VAT).
